

3 Canoe Teams Enter Race

Up to the first of this week, three teams had turned in entry blanks to race in the Seventh Annual Michigan Canoe Championship down the AuSable from Grayling to Lake Huron. The race is slated to start from Grayling on Friday, September 4th at midnight and will finish in Oscoda some time the next day.

Those already entered are Steven Kolonich of Tawas City and Larry Kindell of Melvor, B. F. Sowers, M. D. of Benton Harbor and George Belmore of Allanwater, Ontario, and Charles Robertson of Tawas. Both teams are expected in during the next few days. Inquiries have been received from many out of state canoeists. The canoe will be marked this year in a manner in which they can be identified from the air and the news sent by radio to short wave radio "Ham" operators who will again follow the race on its course reporting the progress all during the run.

A meeting was held last Friday night of the Grayling Canoe Race Committee which was also attended by a Grayling Sportsmen Club representative and a representative of the city. The Sportsmen Club will sponsor a boys canoe race again this year and will also serve the briefing luncheon at their building. The canoe race start point will be placed between Ray's and Borchers' Canoe Livery. The committee is also seeking a sponsor for a girl's race.

It was reported at the Friday night meeting that over $500 had been donated thus far towards Grayling's quota of the race and that the soliciting of funds would continue. The committee members said that they had publicized the race by Grayling from the event should make each Grayling businessman see the worthiness of the race.

Released In Stabbing Probe

Ralph J. Butler, 33, of Anchorage, who had been held in the Crawford County Jail over the week end in an investigation of the stabbing of his woman companion, was released by State Police Monday with no charge lodged against him when the stabbing victim told officers she had cut herself accidentally.

The stabbing took place near Houghton Lake late Friday and the woman, Miss Cynthia Oakes, also of Anchorage, was brought to Grayling Mercy Hospital where her condition is now described as "good." Butler was lodged in the County Jail by the State Police. Butler had told State Police previously that the woman stabbed herself in the lower abdomen with a hunting knife lying on the front seat of his car as the climax to a daylong quarrel.

The pair had stopped first at a Houghton Lake bar and began quarreling, then driven to the north shore of the lake, where the stabbing took place, according to Butler's statement to State Police.

State Police said Butler and Miss Oakes were returning to Anchorage from the Upper Peninsula.

Michigan's 46th Division In Midst Of Tough Two Week Field Training

Some 9,500 Michigan Army and Air National Guardsmen are spending 15 days in the field at three training sites beginning 15 August. Their intensive field training climaxes a year's armory drill training.

For the top Guardsmen, 1953 field training will climax over 30 years' military service.

He is Maj. Gen. Ralph A. Loveland, 46th Inf Div Commander.

About four decades ago, like many men at camp this year, he was serving his first hitch in the National Guard.

Since then he has fought through two World Wars and has earned numerous decorations for valor.

At Camp Grayling this year General Loveland will supervise field training activities of nearly 9,000 Army Guardsmen. He will also keep an eye on another 700 men camped on the shores of Lake Michigan at Camp Chabank, 160 miles away, where the 146th AAA Bn (AW) and the 300th AAA Gun Bn will be firing their quads and long-toms over the water.

At the Grayling airport the 127th Ftr-Bomber Wg, Michigan Air National Guard, will spend its first summer's field training in two years in its home state after returning from a 21-month tour of active duty.

To some units at Camp Grayling it also will be the first home state field training since 1930. They also served two years on active duty.

Most of them are NGUS units—units with parent units of like designations still on active duty.

Governor G. Mennen Williams will interrupt a "vacation" on Mackinac Island to take part in traditional ceremonies marking the halfway point in the 1953 field training of the 46th Inf. Div. and attached units at Camp Grayling.

In his honor, Saturday, 22 August, has been designated as Governor's Day.

Beginning with his arrival Saturday morning, the Commander-in-Chief will participate in a continuous round of activities extending through noon Sunday, August 23rd, at 0600 hours Saturday, the Governor will attend an Army-Navy luncheon.

OSCODA TEAM WINS STURGEON RACE

Ralph Sawyer and Eugene Roy took first place in the Sturgeon River canoe race Sunday. With Frank Ludeman and John Stephan of Grayling coming in a close second. Bob Snook and Delbert Cagle of Grayling came in three minutes back to take fifth place.

Don Feldhauser of Grayling and Bernice Fowler of Vanderbilt moved third place and easily moved up into the lead position. After jumping both dams on the thirty-five mile course, they had widened their lead considerably when they struck an underwater snag that ripped a two foot hole in the bottom of their canoe. Leakage and stopping to empty their canoe took a time toll and as they were passed by, decided to drop from the race.

Most of the Sturgeon race entries are expected to enter the AuSable River race starting from here at midnight, Friday, September 4th. Also in the race from Grayling were Jerry Korhonen and Ron Owens and Arnold Hubbell and Martin Kitchen.

DREWRY'S IS FIRST IN SALES OF ALL 68 BEERS SHIPPED INTO MICHIGAN FOR 50 CONSECUTIVE MONTHS

The latest Michigan brewery sales figures for fifty consecutive months show Drewrys Extra Dry Beer the leading seller of all beers shipped into the state. For 1953 to date, Drewrys outsells the next leading brand by over 2 to 1 and outsells the next two leading brands combined. Drewrys is first in sales of all shipped into Michigan.

Michigan folks are demanding even more Drewrys...but Drewrys quality can't be hurried

You hear it everywhere in Michigan—the preference for Drewrys is growing so fast that folks would like us to supply even more Drewrys Extra Dry Beer than our present record-breaking volume!

We are trying to do this... but only as rapidly as our high and exacting standards of quality will permit.

Please remember that Drewrys Quality cannot be hurried. It takes added time and expense of extra brewing care and extra aging (as well as costliest ingredients) to make a beer as fine as Drewrys. That's why Drewrys is so wonderfully light you can enjoy as much as you want without a feeling of fullness afterwards... yet so hearty in flavor that Drewrys is always completely satisfying.

Absolutely no other beer has this method of brewing and aging. Today—prove to yourself what a tremendous difference this makes in beer enjoyment. Then—like thousands upon thousands of Michigan folks, you too will say, "I LIKE DREWRY'S BEST. IT'S THE FINEST BEER I'VE EVER TASTED—AT ANY PRICE!"

A More Respectable Dollar

A Wall Street Journal news story began with these words: "The dollar is getting more respectable. Despite the great abundance of greenbacks kicking around each of them will buy more of nearly everything." The paper went on to say that the official cost of living figures do not show this, but a trip to the markets does. It then dealt at length with a wide variety of wares in common use which have gone down in price, based on surveys made by its reporters in communities from coast to coast.

It would be a foolhardy man indeed who would forecast that inflation has run its course and that we can confidently expect steady price declines. No one knows what the future will bring, but the fact that so many prices have dropped, often by substantial percentages, since abandonment of government price controls is an excellent commentary on the worth, efficiency and vigor of our competitive system of doing business.

All of us see that system in action on the retail level. Every kind and size of store, from the newest and smallest specialty shop to the oldest and biggest chain, is aggressively seeking business. In many lines, the "buyers' market" has come back with a vengeance. Every possible inducement of price and service is used to attract the consumer. In most merchandising operations, the retailer's profits are very small—a few cents or less out of each dollar he takes in. Together, mass production and mass distribution, both intensely competitive, see to it that we get the best possible value for our money."

1954 TV Receivers

The B-C-D Store of Grayling are now displaying the new 1954 Sylvania television receivers, Harold Cliff store owner said today.

A new feature of the set, according to Mr. Cliff is the "photo power" chassis which combined with Sylvania's halo light takes everyone out of the so-called "fringe area". Checks made by the Sylvania Company in East Jordan, Grayling and Frankfort have proven this statement, Mr. Cliff said.

With Cadillac hitting the video waves this fall on Channel 13 and added power being installed in transmitters at Grand Rapids and Green Bay and with the added new features on the sets being shown by B-C-D, Mr. Cliff said, that Crawford County people will receive as good a television picture this fall as anywhere in the county.

Letters To The Editor

Editor's Note — Following is a letter written by Crawford County Prosecutor Charles E. Moore to law enforcement officers in Crawford County. The letter outlines the stand now being taken by county law enforcement officers all over the State of Michigan concerning the State's gambling laws and should be of wide spread public interest.

August 9, 1953
John A. Papendick,
Sheriff Crawford County
Harold Hatfield, Jr.,
Chief, Grayling Police
Gentlemen:

So that there will be no cause for misunderstanding my position as previously explained to you relative to enforcement of the State anti-gambling laws, particularly in the field of bingo, I am re-stating the same in this letter.

As you know there has been for some time and is now considerable state-wide agitation for strict enforcement of the laws against bingo and other similar gambling games. I have been advised that widespread abuse of so-called charitable bingo games started the agitation and that in many instances those who had charge of such games were actually receiving more of the profit than the charity for whose benefit and in whose name the games were put in. Regardless of this however the agitation grew and finally reached the office of the State Attorney General. Because of reports coming from his office or attributed to his office the State Association of Prosecuting Attorneys at their annual convention, after a full and spirited discussion of the matter, adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That it is the consensus of the Prosecuting Attorneys Association here assembled that:

1. The laws pertaining to all forms of vice, including gambling, be uniformly enforced throughout all counties of the State.
2. The legislature be requested to examine all gaming laws, and in this connection the legislature is specifically urged to re-examine the moral position of the State in connection with its official participation in horse racing and betting.

3. In this regard there are some who feel that games of chance conducted by organized groups for charitable purposes are not morally wrong, and there are those who feel that such games are morally harmful, also there are many who feel that pari-mutual betting on horse races is inconsistent with the prohibition on bingo and other such games.
4. If the people desire a change in the laws on gambling, it must be done by the people themselves through their duly elected legislators or by their own referendum. Until such time, it is not a matter of choice on the part of any law enforcement officer as to which laws shall or shall not be enforced, nor against whom.
5. The members of the Association pledge their continued support to the Michigan State Police, the local sheriff and local city police departments in their unending fight against vice and gambling.

The above resolution was adopted on July 24, 1953, and was designed for the establishment of a uniform policy throughout the State so far as the prosecuting attorneys are concerned. Shortly thereafter and on July 29th the Attorney General wrote a letter to each prosecutor to make his position clear and in this letter he stated, among other things, as follows:

"The Michigan Supreme Court has said there is no distinction in the law between commercial gambling and so-called charitable gambling conducted by churches, fraternal, veteran and other service organizations.
The Attorney General of Michigan, no matter which political party he represents, can only interpret the laws as they are written. He has no power to change them or put them in a state of animated suspension for the benefit of any single segment of the population. Only the legislature and the people can change the present fundamental law against gambling.
Several times in recent months I have been asked to permit charitable organizations to conduct gambling games. I have no more authority to permit anyone to violate the gambling laws, regardless how worthy the cause, than I have to give a permit to commit murder, to steal or rob. Let me state plainly that I have no personal feelings in the matter of charitable bingo. I can only take the laws as I find them and endeavor to do my duty in the office to which I have been elected."

As the Attorney General stated in his letter he does not have any authority to permit charitable organizations to conduct gambling games and neither do you or I. We must accept the law as we find it and not as we think it ought to be. You and I have no right or authority to grant permission to any person to violate the law. During the past several days I have been asked if I will permit bingo games to be operated for charitable purposes. There can be only one answer to all questions and I can only repeat that I cannot grant any such permission and neither can you.

I have not attempted nor do I now attempt to give you any orders relative to enforcing the law. I do not need to do so because the very duties of your respective offices require you to enforce the law. I do feel, however, that due to apparent misconceptions on the part of some of our people, I should make some suggestions and recommendations to you as to the manner in which you handle this problem, and these are as follows:

1. If you find a violation of any of the anti-gambling laws, I suggest that you tell the operator or operators to stop and that you warn them that unless they do stop you will be compelled to arrest them.
2. If you find any such violation I suggest that you give a warning to the owner of the premises where the violation occurred to the effect that his building may be padlocked if another violation occurs.
3. If another violation occurs, after you have given a warning, then I suggest that you arrest the guilty persons or that you sign a complaint for a warrant for their arrest.
4. In any and all cases I will appreciate a full report from you as it will be my duty to present the cases in court.
5. In the event you are met with the assertion that bingo or other gambling games are being permitted to operate in some other county in Michigan then I suggest that you advise the person making such assertion to report the same to the Attorney General or to make a written report to me and I will forward the same to the Attorney General. The mere fact that others may fail to perform a duty does not justify a failure on our part. While we are not responsible for what happens in some other county, our present problem involves our law and not a local one. State laws should be enforced uniformly throughout the State and unless this is done a situation beyond the ability of local officers to control will result. For these reasons it is important that any such conditions existing in other counties should be reported to the Attorney General.
In your efforts to enforce the anti-gambling laws you will without doubt, be subjected to certain criticism—and some of it will be downright vicious. I know because I have already met some of it. As to this type of treatment you will have to realize that it comes only from the ignorant or the vicious or from some person who is losing a source of income. There will also be those who honestly feel that the anti-gambling laws should be modified. In all cases you must remember that your duty is to enforce the law, not make it, and my final suggestion is that you refuse to argue the merits of the law in any of your efforts to enforce it.
Finally, do not hesitate to call on me for help when you feel that I can be of help in this or in any other matter.
Sincerely yours,
Charles E. Moore
Crawford County,
Prosecuting Attorney
